We've Got Some MOO-velous News!

September is starting with something truly worth celebrating! CityServe has been selected as one of five finalists for Chick-fil-A's 2027 True Inspiration Award, guaranteeing CityServe a $35,000 grant to support our work in the community.

But there's even more at stake.

One of the five finalists will receive $200,000 and we need YOUR help to get us MOoving toward the top!

From September 1-30, you can cast your vote for CityServe through the Chick-fil-A app. Your vote could help turn an already incredible $35,000 award into $200,000 to CARE, COORDINATE, and CONNECT even more neighbors throughout our community.

Come Kick Off the Vote With Us!

Join Allegra and me at Chick-fil-A Livermore Ave & 580 on Tuesday, September 1, from 5:30-8:30 PM for Family Night. We'll be there to help get the voting started, answer your questions about CityServe, and celebrate this exciting opportunity together. And yes, the Chick-fil-A Cow will be there too!

This recognition belongs to our entire CityServe community. It reflects the compassion of our team, the dedication of our volunteers, and the generosity of donors and partners who believe that caring for our neighbors makes our whole community stronger.

We've made it into the final five. Now help us MOOve CityServe all the way to $200K!

More Than a Bus Ride

Sometimes the first step toward independence is having someone willing to take the journey with you.

Sometimes the greatest need a person has isn't another referral, another phone number or another list of instructions. Sometimes, they need someone beside them.

For months, CityServe Care Coordinator Zac has been building a relationship with "B," a young adult experiencing homelessness in Pleasanton. B grew up in the community, attended local schools and now lives in a vehicle with his brother. As Zac got to know him, he began to recognize that B faces developmental and cognitive challenges that can make navigating complicated systems and completing multiple-step tasks especially difficult.

But Zac also discovered something else: B wants to belong.

Week after week, B shows up at CityServe's Pleasanton outreach. He stays to help Zac and the team pack bins and move supplies. When Zac is helping someone else, B patiently waits nearby until it is his turn to ask a question, check in or work on his next step.

That consistency has created something important: trust.

Recently, Zac had been working with B on obtaining a phone so he could receive reminders, stay connected to resources and continue moving toward housing, employment and greater stability. One of the steps required B to get to Social Services and navigate the process of applying for the appropriate programs.

On paper, the instruction seemed simple: Take the bus to Social Services. In reality, it was a barrier.

After seeing B struggle to complete the step independently, Zac realized that telling him one more time where to go wasn't going to change the outcome. So Zac did something different.

He got on the bus with him.

Zac met B at the bus stop and showed him which bus to take, where to get off and how to navigate the trip so that, eventually, he can do it himself.

What followed was a nearly five-hour round trip, including the bus rides and time waiting at Social Services. But that time was far from wasted.

Along the way, Zac learned more about B's educational history and the challenges he has faced. They completed paperwork that may help open doors to additional support through the Regional Center, housing resources and employment services. And perhaps most importantly, B had someone beside him reinforcing a message we want every person who encounters CityServe to know:

You matter. You are capable. And you don't have to figure everything out alone.

The goal isn't for Zac to ride the bus with B forever. The goal is to help him build the confidence and skills to navigate life more independently.

One of their next steps is learning how to use maps on his phone so he can find destinations and travel to appointments on his own. That is what empowerment can look like.

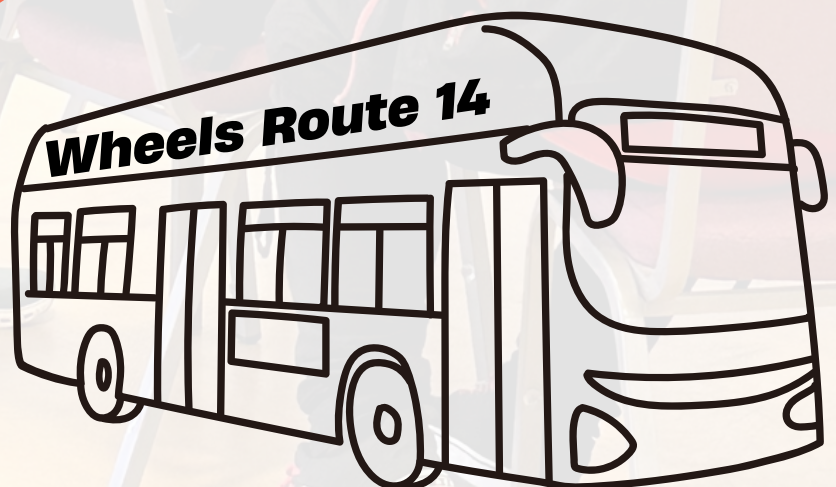

Sometimes care coordination happens behind a desk. Sometimes it happens at an outreach table. And sometimes it looks like sitting beside someone on a bus for five hours because you recognize that what appears to be a simple task may feel like an impossible one to the person sitting next to you.

At CityServe, we believe lasting change begins when we take the time to understand the person in front of us, not simply the problem they are facing.

Zac did more than help B get to Social Services that day. He helped him learn how to get somewhere on his own.

And that may be one of the most important journeys we can take with someone.

How can you help?

Have dog or cat food sitting unused in your pantry? Even an open bag or a can past its date can feed a pet in need. Drop off donated dog or cat food, any brand, at our adoption center, and it goes directly to a family working to keep their pet fed and healthy.

Prefer to give financially? Cash donations let us buy food and supplies at wholesale rates, stretching every dollar further than a single donated item can. Your gift helps stock our pantry between donation drives and ensures no family is turned away.

Young Engineers Get Hands-On at CityServe!

Keyboarding builds essential technology skills while strengthening coordination, problem-solving, and confidence. These skills help prepare youth for success in school and an increasingly digital world.

Our Livermore office was buzzing with creativity as we welcomed both new and returning youth for a one-day Keyboard Engineering Summer Camp! Designed for young engineers and curious builders, students explored how keyboards work from the inside out, learning about switches, stabilizers, PCBs, keycaps, and more before getting hands-on building and customizing their very own mechanical keyboards to take home.

Experiences like this give young people the opportunity to discover new interests, build confidence, and see what they're capable of. We're grateful to the volunteers and community partners who invested their time and resources to make learning fun, hands-on, and accessible for our youth."

VENTUREUP

Our youth program has historically been funded by private donors. This year we partnered with Small Hands Big Hearts Foundation and they prepared this amazing content to share with the children of some of our care coordination families. For more information on how you or your company can support this program & expand the impact, inquire here for next steps!

Thank You Youth Leaders!

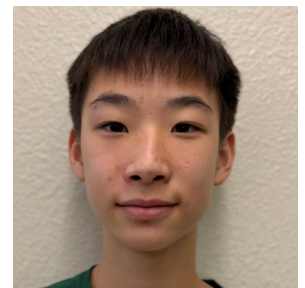

A huge thank you to Ethan, Iyla, and Max, who volunteered their time to help teach, guide activities, and make the day both fun and engaging. Their enthusiasm for sharing their skills with younger students made this experience especially meaningful.

THANK YOU VENTUREUP DONORS!

"Investing in our youth strengthens our entire community" - Christine, CEO, CityServe

A heartfelt thank you to the generous in-kind donors who helped make our Youth Keyboard Engineering Camp extra special! We are grateful to Chick-fil-A Livermore 580 for providing lunch, the Small Hands Big Hearts Foundation for generously gifting brand-new keyboards for every camper, and our individual donors who provided snacks, water, camp materials, supplies, and other essentials.

Because of your generosity, our youth enjoyed a fun, welcoming, hands-on experience where they could learn, create, and build something of their very own. Thank you for investing in our young people and helping us create a memorable day of learning, connection, and creativity!

 We love seeing CityServe become a place where young people can learn, connect, build confidence, and discover new interests. What a fun day of engineering, teamwork, and community!

Community Partnerships

Community Serving Community at Souper Tuesday

Our weekly Souper Tuesday gathering is about so much more than a meal. It's a place where our unhoused neighbors can enjoy lunch, build relationships, connect with resources, and know their community cares.

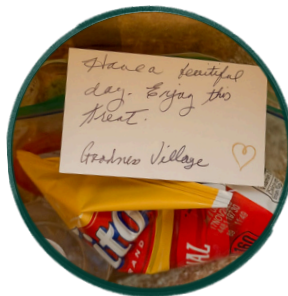

Throughout August, we were grateful to welcome some incredible community partners who generously gave their time, meals, and hearts to serve alongside CityServe.

Want to make a difference? We're looking for businesses, community groups, churches, and neighbors to provide a lunch or come serve alongside us at an upcoming Souper Tuesday. serve@cityservecares.org for more info!

A Souper Thank You to Our Community Partners!

Feeding the neighbors we care for is about more than addressing hunger. A shared meal creates dignity, builds trust, and provides a welcoming place where relationships can grow and people can connect to the support they need.

This is what community looks like: neighbors serving neighbors, one meal and one connection at a time.

A special thank you to Marriott Pleasanton, Chick-fil-A, the City Manager's Office from the City of Livermore, bagged lunches from Goodness Village neighbors, and the Dublin Rotary Club for helping make our Souper Tuesdays extra special this month.

Get Involved

3 WAYS

See below for the the 3 easy ways to get involved! There are many other ways to give back in our local community. Consider donating your time and talents to a local serving kitchen, food pantry, shelter, or other charitable organization. You can also support small businesses in your community by shopping at local stores, eating at local restaurants, and attending local events. We provided you with some ideas throughout the newszine to get started.

➞ Donate In-Kind Gifts

Host a drive of much needed items or coordinate a group project to assemble care packs (toiletries, snack food, warm items, first aid, etc.), donate a shared meal, donate hospitality items for our welcome area, give a basket for a fundraising event or help us furnish a newly housed individual or family.

➞ Individual/Group Serving

Volunteer! As mentioned above, we have several opportunities to serve throughout the year. Also, if you have a work group or desire to serve with your family or friends, let us know and we will organize a project just for you!

➞ Give Financially

You have the opportunity to influence the work we do in our community. Every little bit helps!
